REVIEWS WAR PREPARATIONS OF PAST MONTHS

Now 160,000 Officers and 2,010,000 Men In U. S. Service

WASHINGTON, July 3.—In a review of war preparations during fifteen months of the war by Secretary of War Baker, laid before the house today by Chairman Dent of the military committee it was shown that there are now 160,000 officers and 2,010,000 men in the United States forces.

The statement shows the death rate per thousand among all the troops in the United States for the week ending June 7 was 4.14 as against a rate of 20.14 in the regular army in the United States in 1898 and 5.13 in 1916.

On June 5 the capacity of the hospitals in the United States was 72,667 beds with new hospitals with 14,677 beds under construction. In France hospital facilities are being provided for from five to ten per cent of the whole expeditionary force while, the army hospital corps is now composed of 24,000 officers and 148,000 enlisted men, exclusive of the sanitary corps and army nurses.

Deliveries of elementary training planes up to June 8, Mr. Baker said totalled 4,495 and advanced training planes totalled 820.

The weekly production rate of advanced training planes was 78 on June 8. On that date also 37,250 airplane machine guns had been delivered. The most difficult uidertaking in outfitting an army is the manufacture of heavy artillery the statement said. Sixteen plants had to be provided to make mobile guns, most of them built from the ground up.

"But the artillery program," Mr. Baker added, "is now approaching a point where quantity production is beginning."

To illustrate the enormous work of the quartermaster department the following purchases were noted:

2,567,000 hammers.
5,121,000 axes.
10,870,000 files.
1,700,000 halters.
129,000 escort wagons.
26,000 combat wagons.
339,593 horses and mules.
24,270,000 pairs of shoes.
2,340,000 pairs rubber hip boots.
103,028,000 yards demin cloth.
104,333,000 pairs stockings.

There are now 45,000 Americans engaged on railroad construction and operation in France and 22,000 standard guage freight cars and 1,600 locomotives have been produced in this country for service on the double track railroad from the French coast to the battle section. Additional purchases of both cars and locomotives have been made abroad.

U. S. GUNNERS ANSWER HUNS SHOT FOR SHOT

Americans, Stripped to Waist, Stand in Gun Pits, Feeding the Shells as Fast as Guns Can Handle Them.

With the American Army in France, July 3.—By the Associated Press—The enemy artillery this evening increased the intensity of its fire in the Vaux region. The crash of exploding shells swelled to a roar while the ground and air throbbed with the concussions of shells. But the American guns answered the German challenge shot for shot.

The American gunners, stripped to the waist, stood in the gun pits and on gun emplacements feeding shells as fast as they could handle them into the guns and a steady stream of steel explosives swept thru space to the enemy lines. At five o'clock this evening the gun fire showed no signs of abating, the enemy artillery work, if anything, evidencing more ferocity than ever. The American aviators keeping vigil over the fighting zone, found the ground completely obscured at places by the smoke of guns and shells.

Among the captured material thus far counted are six heavy machine guns, eighteen light machine guns, six trench mortars, two grenade throwers, two hundred rifles, one motorcycle machine gun and large quantities of ammunition and equipment.

War Summary

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

American troops standing at Vaux, northeast of Chateau Thierry, have completely smashed repeated and determined counter-attacks by the Germans, who sought to oust the Americans from their new positions. That the German have tried desperately to reverse the decision in the battle is an indication that the occupation of Vaux is viewed as important by the enemy commanders.

Over the lines held by General Pershing's men there has been bursting a storm of steel from the German cannon, high explosve and gas shells beng ntermngled n the projectles hurled by the foe's cannon. The Americans, however, have not yelded a foot of ground and when the enemy has attacked, he has been permtted to approach close to the American lines before a storm of bullets has out thru hs ranks and broke his attack.

As the result of these assaults the Germans have lost very heavily the ground being covered with their dead and wounded.

They have in addition, lost many prisoners. The battle is still being fiercely waged. French units are said to be engaged in the region of Vaux but it is probable that they are not very numerous.

The battle at Voux has seemingly absorbed the most of the activity on the western side of the salient running north from the Marne, but far up toward the Oise river at Moulin-Sous Toutvent, a little village east of the de Laigue forest the French have struck the German line over a front of nearly two miles and have penetrated to a depth of approximately half a mile. Prisoners to the number of 457 have been reported captured.

The British were unable to retain the positions they seized on Sunday near Boiscencourt, north of Albert.

After a terrific bombardment the Germans succeeded in recapturing the ground. On the north side of the Picardy sector at Boyelles and Moyenneville, and in the Lys setor at Merris, the British have taken prisoners in raiding operations. The Italians have again shifted their attack and this time have chosen the Piave front for a demonstration of their strength. After a bombardment which reached drum fire intensity the Italians crossed the Piave northeast of Capo Sile. In spite of the flooded areas before them, they made some progress which is admitted by Vienna nad captured 1,000 prisoners as well as taking valuable war material. Austrian counter-attacks in the Grappa region, east of the Brenta have been repulsed.

American air fighters have participated in combats during the fighting at Vaux and are credited unofficially with destroying seven German machines. In the fighting on Tuesday the British destroyed thirteen enemy airplanes and forced nine more to descend out of control.

The Ukraine government which was set up by the German military authorities there is tottering to its fall, it is reported. The alleged attitude of the government toward the peasants is said to be the cause of the impending crisis.

LIEUTENANT HOLMES RECEIVES D. S. CROSS

General Pershing Decorates Several Americans for Their Bravery in Action.

With The American Army In France, Tuesday, July 2.—(By The Associated Press.)—Returning from a raid in the Montdidier sector Lieutenant Christian Holmes today found General Pershing waiting to decorate personally himself and six others with the Distinguished Service Cross. The ceremony was held well within range of the guns and the medals were pinned on the soldiers after review under hot summer skies.

Lieutenant Holmes who also has received the French war cross, for bravery had participated in a raid and when he got back to the American lines learned that his latest decoration had arrived in the hands of General Pershing in order not to miss the honor of receiving the medal from the commander-in-chief, he hurried to the review blood spattered and grimy.

The other recipients, all of whom were awarded the medal for gallantry in action, were Sergeants Patrick Walsh, James A. Murphy and William Norton, Corporals Ernest Birch and Henry J. Mongeau and Private Edward V. Armstrong. General Pershing gave to the commanding general distinguished service crosses for corporals A. N Quick, Louis Liberman and Rexford S. Dettro. Corporals Quick and Liberman exhibited bravery in rescuing two wounded comrades exposed to enemy shell fire. Corporal Dettro now is attending a school for officers.

NEED 25,000 STUDENT NURSES FOR TRAINING

Call Is for Women Between the Ages of 19 and 35.

Washington, July 3.—With the nation's reserve of trained nurses for service in military and naval hospitals both abroad and in the United States, it has became necessary to call immediately for 25,000 student nurses for training in American hospitals.

This call for women between the ages of 19 and 35 today was issued jointly by Surgeon-General W. C. Gorgas, of the United States army, Dr. Rupert Blue, Surgeon-general of the United States public health service; H. P. Davison, Chairman war Council American Red Cross; Dr. Franklin Martin, chairman, general medical board, council of National Defense and Anna Howard Shaw, chairman, women's committee council of National Defense.

Following is the formal appeal:

"Across the sea from France, with every closing day of the heroic struggle of our fighting men, there come a more imperative call to the women of America to assume their full share of responsibility in winning this world war.

"There exists now an extreme necessity for at least 25,000 women of character, intelligence and education to fill the gaps in our hospital staffs caused by the calling of many thousands of skilled nurses to the fighting front.

"There is only one way to fill these gaps; by keeping our hospital training school supplied with students who are not only preparing for service abroad and at home at the end of their course and at the same time equipping themselves to earn their own living in one of the ablest of profession, but from the very outset of their course are serving their country as well as learning.

"The surgeon-general of the United States army, the American Red Cross, the general medical board and the women's committee of the council of national defense therefore unite in an earnest appeal for 25,000 young women between the ages of 19 and 35 to enroll in what shall be called the United States Student Nurse Reserve.

"The enrollment will begin on July 29, 1918. Those who register in this volunteer body will engage to hold themselves in readiness until April 1, 1919, to be assigned to training schools in civilian hospitals or to the army nursing school and begin their course of study and active student nursing.

"The service for which we are asking calls for the best that the womanhood of America can offer in courage, devotion and resourcefulness.

"Acting on the urgency of the need the state divisions of the woman's commitee of the council of national defense are requested thru their local units to enroll the 25,000 women needed."

Claim Four Shot Down

Berlin, July 3.—The German war office today announced that four machines attached to the American squadron of nine units were shot down. Lively fighting is also reported south of Arras, northwest of Albert and between the Aisne and Marne rivers.

ERMAN P EOPLE LEARNING F HEAVY LOSSES.

Tho conflicting stories come om Germany as to condition of people and the state of the c mind, there are well auth- ticated reports that war facts e very largely kept from the ople. This is true of the re- ive, where Germany's losses re reported as relatively small. a matter of fact these losses re very heavy and the people now said to be finding out real truth and know that e has been a terrific loss of life and manpower, even if the government declared that the losses were small. With the authenticated report that 120 German divisions were shot to pieces it is very certain that Germany had an enormous casualty list in that drive. The worst of it was that no worth while gains of territory were made to in any way justify that blood shed.

THE WORK OF SPIES.

There seems to be pretty good evidence that the spy system, established in this country by Count Bernstorff, is still flourishing tho not in the same open way. Some facts relative surrounding the recent sinking of the hospital ship indicate that the submarine commander had vast information about the passengers on board the ship. The government believes that information of value to the enemy is still being sent out of this country by wireless or some other means of communication, and for this reason there have come new requests for the careful handling of news matter relative to all troop movements, especially those toward the northern part of the United States.

RED CROSS IN THE CAMPS.

Camp service has grown to be one of the largest phases of Red Cross work.

To indicate the volume of this work it may be stated that up to April 30, 1918, the Red Cross had distributed 1,822,906 sweaters 641,971 mufflers, 623, 972 wristlets, 454,569 helmets, 1,392,352 pairs of socks.

The work for the families of enlisted men by the Home Service department has been equally impressive. To June 15 service had been given in some form to 202,302 families and $,054,827 had been expended in this relief work. There are now 20,692 Home Service workers in the United States under Red Cross supervision.

Then there is the canteen service with more than 700 units ready to meet troop trains to give refreshments to the men, or to take care of those who become sick enroute.

The convalescent houses are nearing completion in all camps to afford enlisted men a bright, cheerful environment for their hours of convalescence. Provision is made for entertainment and social diversions which are powerful aids in the convalescent stage.

The communication service of the Red Cross keps families of enlisted men informed of their welfare both here and abroad, if the men are sick, wounded or captured and unable to keep up correspondence.

DOWN STATE MAN

The candidacy of Richard ates for congressman at large meeting with general approval ughout the State and there s to be a feeling of general that he will be one of men nominated. The Register recently had ng:

"The fact that Richard Yates is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman at large brings out that the down state should have at least one of the two congressmen at large. At the present time it is understood that Chicago will have two candidates. If both of these are nominated it will mean that the down state will have none. It is desirable that the large population outside of Chicago have its just proportion of representation. This does not signify that Chicago should have none but it should be just and fair in its dealings with the rest of the state.

"As for Yates he is one of the best known political figures of the state. Our recollection is that he has served in Congress, and that he made a good showing there. He has had a varied political experience. He was governor of the state for a term, and his administration was regarded as a capable one without crookedness and generally satisfactory. That he is a man of large ability is not questioned, that he has wonderful facility of expression and is forceful, versatile and eloquent in speech is agreed by all that have heard him, and that he would make a satisfactory congressman admits of no doubt.

"With his acquaintance in the State the former governor ought to make a strong showing, but that Chicago interrogation will stare the down State voters in the face unless they take pains to attend closely to business."

SUMMER WEATHER.

The days are growing hotter, altho they're hot enough, and as I ply my swatter 'Im feeling pretty tough. The solar rays are pelting, from heat there's no surcease and I am slowly melting and swimming in my grease. I overhaul the verses I wrote four months ago, and marvel at the curses I handed sleet and snow. Oh, I was urely nutty, when I such language tossed; his head is stuffed with putty, who rails at snow and frost. For winter's wholesome rigors are good for man and beast; there are no flies and chiggers on human limbs to feast. Men sit before their heaters, while loud the blizzard rants, and there are no muskeeters, no worms or bugs or ants. From germproof Athabasca the wholesome breezes blow; from ocean washed Alaska comes down the healthful snow. And yet when winter's flinging its blessings all around, when we should all be singing, we raise a doleful sound. Because some ears are frosted, because a nose is peeled, the language is exhausted, so bitterly we've spieled. The days are growing hotter, and hotter still, my friends; as to my tasks I totter, the mercury ascends. The flies, in countless legions, are roosting on my dome, and in the arctic regions I fain would build my home.

A letter received yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. George Eads from their son, William Eads, at Camp Taylor, made mention of the fact that he has been promoted to sergeant. Sergt Eads has evidently measured up well to responsibility and proven a useful man in the medical department of the army.

WHO CAN EQUAL THIS

George Hall, the capable weather observer at Alexander has a Deering binder he has used for 35 years and it is in good shape yet. He says too that at that time the machines were largely of wood and not as strong and durable as at present when so much more metal is used in their construction. As the writer said of P. J. Woulfe, Mr. Hall has no grudge against the implement dealers and wishes them all well but he doesn't love them well enough to leave his machinery out in the weather and fail to take care of it. Many a binder is laid aside after five to eight years of use because it is not cared for properly.

BOY INJURES KNEE.

Haven Hettick, aged eight years son of E. W. Hettick, 1324 South Main street suffered a painful injury to his right knee while playing with some companions Wednesday evening. The lad was running when in some manner he fell and ran the tine of a fork into his right knee. Dr. G. R. Bradley was called and gave the necessary surgical attention. Unless infection develops no serious results are anticipated.

All officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the regular army reserve, the officers reserve corps and the enlisted reserve corps, the national guard and national guard reserve recognized by the militia bureau of the war department; members of the navy, marine corps, the coast guard, officers of the health service, the nurses, army field clerks, field clerks of the quartermaster corps, civilian clerks and military employes on duty with the military forces detailed for service abroad in accordance with the existing law.

"(b) For those killed in action a gold star will be substituted for the blue star, or superimposed on it, entirely covering it.

"(c) For those wounded in action a silver star will be substituted for the blue star, or superimposed on it, entirely covering it. Use of this star would be limited to those entitled to the official wound chevron, which is awarded to those receiving wounds in action with the enemy or disabled by a gas attack, necessitating treatment by a medical officer.

"(d" For those who subsequently die from such wounds or gas disablement, the gold star will be superimposed on the silver, leaving a margin of silver around the gold.

Silver On Blue

"(e) For those disabled or invalided home by injury or disease incurred in line of duty, a silver star will be superimposed on the blue, leaving a margin of blue around the silver.

"(f) For those who subsequently die as a result of such accident or disease contracted in line of duty, a gold star will be substituted for this silver star, or superimposed on it, covering the silver entirely, but leaving the margin of blue.

"(g) Men reported missing are presumed to have been taken prisoner and should continue to be represented by the blue star.

"(h) Men discharged, not for the good of the service or on request of resignation, but from wounds or physical incapacity contracted in the line of duty, shall continue to be represented by the silver star. When discharged for other causes they would appear to be thereafter no more entitled to representation than others not in the military service."

REASSURING STATEMENT ON GASOLINE

There is no shortage of gasoline for our immediate needs according to Mark L. Requa, director of the oil division of the U. S. fuel administration. The lack is one entirely of transportation. Gasoline must be produced as a by-product in the manufacture of fuel oil used in the navy, in merchantships and in industrial plants, and the gasoline must be disposed of. So unless gasolne is sold and consumed the cost of fuel oil will increase. There is ,therefore, no intention on the part of the fuel administration to shut off or limit the supply of gasoline in the use of vehicles.

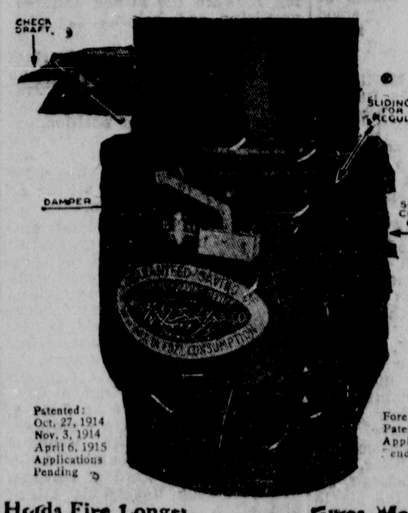

This being true, you can go to the Maxwell station for gasoline and get the best.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

THE MOUND ROAD

By Ensley Moore
(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

It is a long word, The Mound Road. It must run back to when the earliest settlers said, "Well, keep going a little to the south west, and you will come to the Mound road, and keep right along on the ridge till you come to The Mound, then down across the valley to the next mound, about two mile, you will come to Swinnerton's Point".

That is all well enough for the earliest days, but the after comers did not care to go so far, and really the first of them had no buggies or carriages to ride in, and did not care to jolt out there in farm wagons, altho William Strawn and some of those early day boys might hitch four horses to sleds and take their girls out to Rockwell's farm on The Mound.

It must have been before that, Gov. Duncan bought the land on the north side of the State road, out to where Jack Leach used to live afterwards, and planted the row of locust trees all the way out. Some of those trees, or their sprouts, are there yet.

But people were getting better off, and getting buggies and carriages, and swell young fellows were coming to Jacksonville from the East, and the daughters of those old Southerners were fetching, as were the girls from the East, and so they began to go riding out The Mound Road.

And surely it was fine—the view, as well as going with the girls—and the young people kept gong out there, more and more. And the staid older folks thought what was good enough for the young ones was good enough for them, and they rode out there too. And they would take their visitors out to view the the beautiful rolling prairies, and take in the glories of Illinois.

Some where along in the early days Tim Chamberlain used to run his old hack up from Naples thru Exeter, and when he got to the Mound he probably could point out to his wearied passengers some point "that was just straight south of Jacksonville", and the passengers took hope of getting there before night.

But others beside Tim, who was young then, and had not gotten to be Secretary of the Morgan County Old Settlers Association, hauled people up from "the river", and Jacksonville grew apace.

The writer came up the Naples road, one drizzly afternoon in 1853 or 1854, and passed the store and one or two houses, which still made Geneva, once "a post town in Morgan county"; and the litle boy saw Allinson's big house off to the right. Strangely enough, the child did not note the Mound or the beautiful road to town.

Two years later, in the Fall of 1856, Clement Noyes, of Perry, drove up to the Moore house there, and asked Ensley to ride over to Jacksonville with him. Mr. Noyes had been prospecting in Iowa, in a covered wagon, and as they rode along it was the boy's only experience of traveling in a "mover-wagon."

They came along, and hit the

Mound Road,

With the strange row of locust trees along the side of it.

As they got nearly to town Mr. Noyes called the lad's attention to the attractiveness of the region, and predicted that, in time, rich people would line the highway with their residences. But he could hardly have foreseen how Gates Strawn and Harry Capps and other millionaires would locate out there.

Yates and Grant.

There were other days coming for the pioneer road, as one of the youngest of them, Richard Yates, rode out over the Mound and Allinson's, thru Exeter, down the Bluffs, wound thru the Bottom into Naples, to take the steam boat for St. Louis and Louisville and Cincinnati and Pittsburg, and over the mountains into Washington City as Congressman from the Baker, Hardin, Lincoln district. There he stood for four years, combatting Slavery, and came home to become, in a few years, the greatest War Governor—and then Grant!

Yes, Yates was to send Grant to Lincoln, and right past Yates' boyhood home in Sangamon county, and past the Governor's residence on East State street and out West State street, and so that Fifth day of July, 1861, Ulysses S. Grant—by the good hand-work of Richard Yates Colonel of the 21st. Illinois—led his men out the Mound road on the way to glory for the Old Commander and his men.

May not some true poet of Jacksonville yet tell in living verse of "Grant's First March!"

Again of Peace.

As the years grew along the boy became a youth and a young man, and he learned the witching power of the old road "along the ridge," taking in other beauties than those of the landscape, fair as they were.

Many Another Young Man

Has ridden into bliss on the rises of the road westward, and many another has ridden down grade in his misery coming back to town with the girl who was only interested in his fancy turn-out.

But why should the noble pathway be blamed for this? Did not poets even, as far back as Virgil, charge women with being changable ever?

A Great Pleasure Trail

It has been, to hundreds and thousands. A line leading to moving pictures of radiant sun sets. A scene of waving wheat or golden corn. A land fitted to furnish its owner with milk and honey, to say nothing of the now almost impossible beef steak. A land which the lover of Illinois might fairly claim as the richest on earth. A land which, for other land more centuries may gladden the eye and heart of the observer, or reward the labor of the husbandman with more and more rich and abundant harvests.

The Mingling of War and Peace.

"O'er thy prairies verdant growing,
Illinois, Illinois.
Comes an echo on the breeze,
Rustling thru the leafy trees,
And its mellow tones are these,
Illinois, Illinois.
And its mellow tones are these,
Illinois.

* * * * * * * * *

When you heard your country calling,
Illinois, Illinois.
Where the shot and shell were falling.
Illinois, Illinois.

There were none more brave than you,
Illinois, Illinois.
There were none more brave than you,
Illinois.

THE OLD ACADEMY AS A POSSIBLE HIGH SCHOOL SITE

The writer has not heard a member of the board of education, nor any one directly or indirectly connected therewith, make any statement concerning the suggestion in The Journal of July 3rd, in which the above site is spoken of, nor any statement concerning the site itself. In no sense, then, can anything in this squib reflect the sentiment of either the board of education or any member thereof.

The first suggestion coming to the writer was from a citizen who remarked that he had nothing to do but to attend to other people's business and consider economic questions. And that suggestion was made only yesterday. At first blush it seemed impracticable. But is it impracticable? A vote has been taken, bonds authorized and, at first blush the matter would seem to be settled. But may not a community, as well as a deliberative body, rescind its former action?

There are some questions which may not be brought to a vote save after a definite interval. Is that not an admission, by the legislature itself, that but for the inhibition such vote might be repeated at any time after proper notice?

If the Academy property can be acquired for $40,000.000, as The Journal suggests, would not the insurance money on hand be more than sufficient to build a small power house, sufficient for the David Prince, make the necessary changes in the Academy building and pay for the grounds?

The writer has no wish to become a partisan for or against, this proposition. He seeks to simply stimulate the thought of the community. If serious consideration is to be given to the suggestion, the modus operandi is for proper petitions to be circulated at once to be signed by at least five hundred voters in the district and presented to the board of education. Otherwise the board of education, will, of course, proceed with present plans.

The board of education is adjourned to meet on the 12th. There is ample time to secure the necessary signatures to such petitions if the suggestion is to be seriously considered.

Sergeant Floyd Lashmet of Manchester has been transferred from the quarters in Hoboken to Jersey City. He says there were lots of Germans in and about Hoboken and it is well known that the great docks of the North German-Loyd Steamship Company were there. RED CROSS KNITTERS Spiral Sock Not Accepted By Red Cross.

Knitters are asked to return, as soon as possible, all old yarn taken from the Red Cross Shop, whether sweater or sock yarn left over from garments already turned in. We must clear up all old knitting before we can start on the next quota.

There are still a few knitters who have not yet turned in sweaters from yarn for the June 30th quota. They are reminded that their work is now over due and are urged to rush their sweaters so that all work can be shipped immediately. The change of policy adopted at the Central Division Headquarters, putting our knitting on a quota basis, makes it imperative for all who take yarn from the Red Cross Shop to turn it in on time. Work cannot be begun on another quota until all garments have been shipped on the present one. The high standard of Morgan County knitted garments must be equalled by the promptness with which they are turned in for shipping.

A number of inquiries have come into the Red Cross Shop concerning the "spiral sock". A recent bulletin received from Central Division Headquarters warns knitters against this type of sock and states that it is not authorized by the Red Cross. The following item clipped from the Chicago Tribune, Sunday June 9th, is of interest: "On several occasions notices have appeated to the effect that the "spiral" sock has been invented, and that the Red Cross indorses it and will soon issue instructions for knitting it. Each time the notice has been contradicted by the department of comforts and nitting, Chicago Chapter American Red Cross, as the spiral sock is not wanted by the Red Cross and cannot be acepted." The local chapter is not permitted to ship the "spiral" sock.

MORE HELP FOR FARMERS

The manager of the Illinois Telephone company, along with other telephone companies, is notifying country subscribers that if they are in need of farm workers and cannot secure them, to call the government employment office, which is the county agent's office in counties having such agents. In case there are tolls these will be charged to the county agent's phone. The plan has been worked out by the department of labor as an aid to the general farm labor situation.

FRO MTHOMAS JENKINSON.

Thomas Jenkinson writes his parents that the boys arrived safely at Camp Taylor though a little tired and dusty from the trip. He had seen a good many Morgan county boys and all were well and like himself had only praise for conditions. He is especially loud in his praise of the Y. M. C. A. and what it does for the soldiers.

NOTICE

The practice of throwing grass in the streets must be stopped as it frequently occasions the stoppage of sewers and endangers the health of the public in addition to the expense. Warning is also given to boys or others who lift manholes and drop in rubbish, that this practice must stop.

Firestone TIRES
Quality Service

It's a Big Job

rolling around under all kinds of road and speed conditions, with the heavy weight of a big car and the added strain, frequently, of a capacity load. Ordinary tires give ordi- troop- service under these conditions. those of the RED Firestone Cord Tires give extra-ordi- THE C ary service to the owners of heavy on C and medium weight cars, because they have been specially designed with unusual service conditions in mind.

The special cord structure and extra thick side wall that form the carcass or "frame-work" of the tire are as skillfully planned and as capable of serving their purpose as the skeleton of a skyscraper.

On this foundation is laid the tread of Firestone-compounded rubber, tough and resilient and specially designed to give added speed with safety and long, satisfactory mileage.

AT THE PRESENT TIME when conservation and thrift are uppermost in the minds of all thinking men and women, we particularly recommend Firestone Cord Tires. Come in and let us tell you about them.

Give it in Time

Every mother knows that coughs and colds, neglected, may lead to the most dread diseases. Croup, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption often have their beginning in a slight cold.
The wise mother gives
Foley's Honey and Tar
at the first signs of a cough or cold. She knows it stops coughs quickly, puts a soothing, healing coating on an inflamed and tickling throat, and gives a feeling of warmth and comfort to the sufferer.
Mrs. M. E. Schlarb, Ashland, Penn., writes:—"Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough and cold remedy I have ever tried. When my little girl gets a cold on her chest, I give her a few doses, and it relieves her right away."

Back the Government to the Limit

The Government has asked American business to pursue a certain course for the duration of the war.

Keep quality up and prices reasonable,

—a strictly non-profiteering policy.

It is the only patriotic policy.

It is the policy this company has always adopted and the one we will continue to pursue.

We stand ready to undergo any sacrifice in order to cooperate with the Government.

We believe it is best for ourselves.

We know it is best for our country.

We appeal to all concerns—big and small—to adopt the same policy.

American business must rally as a unit to the support of the Government.

It is the surest and the quickest way to win the war.

WARNS SPANISH PEOPLE AGAINST GERMANY

Representative La Guardia Issues Warning After Trip Thru Spain to Study Effect of German Propaganda Floated there —Working Classes Swayed by German Press Campaign.

Barcelona, Spain, June —(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Captain F. H. La Guardia of New York City, Representative in the American Congress, has told the Spanish people that they and their government are injuring themselves by friendliness toward Germany. He pointed out in an interview given to the Barcelona La Publicidad that while Spain was taking this attitude, her vessels carrying raw materials vitally necessary to Spanish industries were being ruthlessly sunk by German submarines.

Publication of the interview has caused a stir thruout Spain. Representative La Guardia has completed a trip thru Spain to study the effect of the many-sided German propaganda floated there. He finds that about 50 per cent of the "thinking classes" in Spain are avowedly for the Entente against Germany, but that the great mass of the working classes, and the Spanish government thus far, have been swayed by the German press campaign especially by the anti-American feature of it, to disregard Spain's real interests. The government he believes, would turn to a pro-Entente attitude, at least, if American standpoints and ideals were better known.

This however he thinks is impossible as long as the Germanophile portion of the press continued to keep alive bitterness resulting from the Spanish-American war and the loss of Cuba and the Philippines while it belittles or ignores the sinking of Spanish ships with the consequent loss of materials intended to keep Spanish industry alive.

"You understand," he told the Barcelona paper, "that unless Spanish factories receive the greater part of their raw materials from the United States they cannot continue to perate. Then why, can anyone tell me, do German submarines lie in wait off the Spanish shores in order to sink Spanish ships carrying raw materials for Spanish factories to work with? Are the Germans and Austrians at war with the Spanish working people that they seek to deprive them of their means of livelihood? Because surely it is no punishment to the United States when German submarines sink Spanish ships bringing raw cotton for the mills of Catalonia.

"Germany is trying to weaken you by crippling your industries thru the destruction of your mercantile flota. Since 1915 Germany has destroyed not less than 78 of your merchant ships with a total tonnage of over 160,000 tons. They were mostly coming to Spain laden with raw materials for your factories. Just because Germany is at war and destined to defeat is no reason why she should destroy the Spanish merchant fleet. Germany does not want Spanish commerce to flourish.

"We want to do business with Spain. Business with us after the war will be on an equal footing with reciprocal profits and mutual advantages. Business with Germany will mean to what it has always meant—commercial dominion and industrial exploitation.

"Our victory means your prosperity."

GORGAS MAKES SERIOUS CHARGES

Surgeon General Declares Most Deaths In Camps Result of Acts By Unpatriotic Citizens.

Springfield, Ill., June 28.—John and Richard Doe have been indicted and found guilty of acts hostile to the government of the United States in that they have caused a great amount of sickness and many deaths in the various camps of the U. S. Army. The charges were made by William C. Gorgas, Surgeon General of the Army. He also asks that the Illinois State Department of Health begin action against the same defendants, and upon investigation the Department has found that the said Doe and Roe have been guilty of maintaining a dangerous public nuisance. The facts are as follows:

A great deal of the illness and consequent deaths in the fighting forces have been the result of the action of bacteria which are found in the nose and throat. These virulent bacteria may be freely grown in the respiratory passages of persons who are immune to their effect, but when these persons cough or sneeze into the free air—that is without covering the nose and mouth with a handkerchief the bacteria are thrown out in the minute droplets of moisture and are easily taken up by any person in the vicinity. This is far more likely to occur in train, theatres and other public gatherings, and in offices. It is in this way that the diseases are kept in civil life, and from civilians the army becomes infected. The list of diseases thus spread includes pneumonia, measles, meningitis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, mumps, infantile paralysis, influenza and tuberculosis.

After a careful examination of the conditions General Gorgas came to the conclusion that the control over these diseases depends upon securing abatement of the nuisance which consists in sneezing or coughing without the use of the handkerchief.

The defendants pleaded first that they were ignorant of the danger, but that plea was held insufficient defense since the facts have been known for a long time and have been frequently published. Defendants also argued that criminal intent had not been shown, but the courts hold that where certain harmful results may naturally be the result of negligence it is not necessary to show the intent to commit injury.

Certain conclusions may be drawn from the foregoing:

1. The use of the handkerchief is a matter of habit, and that habit must be formed as nearly as possible.

2. Any person who coughs or sneezes in public without covering the nose and mouth with a handkerchief is giving aid to the enemy, for he is tending to weaken our fighting force.

3. Such a person is guilty of a criminal offense according to the common law, for he is maintaining a public nuisance dangerous to the lives and health of citizens.

BULLISH REPORTS STIMULATE CORN BUYING

CHICAGO, July 3.—Evening up to prepare for the holiday tomorrow had a good deal to do with corn advances. Prices today closed ½c to 1⅞c net higher with August $1.52⅞ to $1.53⅛ and September $1.54¼ to $1.54⅜. Oats gained ¼c to 1c and provisions 10c to 20@22c.

Bullish construction put on crop figures also tended at first to stimulate corn buying. Acreage was estimated at 3,100,000 less than last year but this was offset by reckonings that in spite of that fact, the yield would reach 3,160,000,000 bushels a ned high record total.

Oats were strong with corn. Besides seaboard demand was in evidence.

Reduction in western stocks of meats last month was chiefly responsible for advance in provisions.

HOLIDAY HAS EFFECT UPON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 3.—The approaching holiday exerted the customary effect on the stock market today, dealings diminishing steadily after the first hour.

Coppers led the spirited opening at gains of 1 to 2 points, some of these being later extended. The advance of the metal group was primarily due to a substantial advance in prices granted by the war board.

United States steel and independent issues of that division made only moderate headway until the final hour when a sudden inquiry forced steel to the day's maximum at a net gain of 1⅜ points.

Shippings, oils, motors and tobaccos registered extreme advances of 1 to 2 points, but these were irregularly impaired later on the erratic movement of Sumatra tobacco and a few of the better known equipments. The demand for rails was again exceedingly thin, a few of the high grade investment shares remaining unquoted thruout the session. Reading was the only important transportation issue to how a material change gaining a large fraction. Sales 350,000 shares.

Liberty bonds eased from their higher trend. Total sales (par value) $5,150,000.

As the bread gland, France and Italy be- whiter and whiter our own ects became brighter and ter.

e world stands breathless to- atching the greatest race in uman history, the race be- the United States and Ger- . Germany trying to close e war before America can nto it, and America trying et in before it is too late. e dread words "too late," we heard altogether too often is great crisis. Lloyd George "England too late at Gal- i, England and France too to save Serbia," and we our- s with England and France too late to save Northern or to keep Russia from go- into complete collapse. Must gain be too late in this great s? President Wilson tells us this is the critical year of war. Not that the war will this year, far from that, for knows better than we that this year would mean a Ger- ictory, the crime of all the the only short way possible f this war with a victory s would be the finding of a lete solution for the subma- and that has not been ob- ed. We must fight our way with men. Our program is a gram of the future. It takes e to prepare for war. Our ty now as a nation depends n the integrity of the peoples Great Britain, France and y.

t this critical period, while are training our armies and ufacturing instruments of and building ships, our civil- population is fighting the bat- of America in the front line ches. Upon them and what do now and hereafter in rela- to the food and other pro- s depends the outcome of war. Three times a day at e table you can fight the sub- marine, by helping to defeat its object. Its object is to prevent the bringing up of the men, food and supplies needed for the West- ern front, along the slender thread of ships stretched across the At- lantic and on which the life of this nation is now suspended. These are the most momentous days since those of the Man of Galilee. On the other side of the water those fighting our battles look to us and say, "When will America be ready to put her full force into this war? How long can we hold the line and wait for her to prepare?" We must real- ize that we can no longer send explanations to France and Eng- land. We must send food and men and guns. We have not meas- ured up to our possibilities, and the only way we can ask them to go on into more years of bloody war is to show them that we are coming, that our eyes are open to the world danger and that we will see the war thru to a final victory, no matter what the cost or how long it may take.

Americans must face their duty, harsh and disagreeable as it may be. They must realize that they came late into the war because of their inability to see its outstand- ing features more clearly at an earlier date. We are as yet a great amateur nation untrained in large world problems. We have acted somefhat like the big, ath- letic boy who is slated for a con- test with a professional, and who spends some of the time he ought to put in on training every muscle and every nerve hoping that the professional will die of heart dis- ease before the contest comes off. We have hoped that Germany would collapse internally, have talked of peace, of starvation and submarine crew mutinies, of strikes, etc., instead of unitedly getting ready every minute of every day. It has been necessary for us to think in new terms. It took us months to see our danger and the danger to democracy and to civilization. We must act fast- er in the future, or Might may win the world. How many Amer- icans realize today that unless we put Serbia back on her feet, every square foot of her territory, Ser- bian territory again, we will have lost the war and Germany will have won it. Germany started this war to get Serbia.

Germany now has realized her dream of Middle Europe. She sees Europe almost within her grasp. Victory has followed vic- tory as she has sent her armies to various parts of Europe, and now we have the supreme period of the war and soon the world will have a decision based largely up- on what we do as to whether it shall be ruled by the Golden Rule of Christ or the military rule of a prince maintained by the bayonet and bomb.

Our immediate pressing duty is to see that the peoples and armies of Great Britain, France and Italy are fed, so that they will not collapse as Russia and as Finland have done because of the disorganization due to German propaganda, injustice and above all, lack of food. It is impera- tive that we save and send wheat and other foods absolutely requir- ed in Europe during the months before the next harvest. We can- not do it unless we stop using them here. We must realize that food is the weapon with which America is going to be able to maintain a position in this war long enough to win it. We are not asking that food be saved to save money, but to save the lives that will win the war. Think o our problem when you realize that shortly before this great German offensive the limit upon our ex- port of wheat reduced the bread allowance of the French people to practically two-thirds of that hitherto maintained.

This is no time to talk of money or of profits, for the world is using a new medium of exchange today, in order to obtain that liberty, freedom and justice which it demands. That medium of ex- change is the precious blood of men and boys, the best that we have, and we are sending them by the hundreds, yes the hundreds of thousands. They go forth sing- ing: "As He died to make men holy, let us die to set men free." The man who comes out of this war with one dollar more than he had when it began has taken it from the blood of the men who died for him. May God forgive him. The American people never will.

Reviewing the work of the Food Administration, my mind naturally reverts to the early pro- blems of its organization. Know- ing then the probable crop of shortage, the imperative needs ahead, a method of saving food suitable to the American people was vital. An appeal to its ideal- ism was decided upon. Certain factors had to be considered. Con- trol of consumption must be eith- er by rationing, by high prices or by voluntary effort. An early introduction of rationing into this country would have resulted in an inevitable reaction, because of our surpuls of food. Besides, on on the basis of the rationing sys- tems adopted by the European countries for certain staple foods, it would demand about $400,000 per month or $4,800,000 per year for the printing of the necessary ration cards. Aside from the nec- essary preliminary inventories and inspections, it would take about one official for every one thousand families to take care of this distribution. This would nec- essitate a salary roll of something like $20,000,000 per year. In fact, on the European basis, about $45,000,000 per year would be re- quired for expenses of the ration- ing system applicable to staple foods. The control of consumption by high prices was too unfair to merit consideration in such a country as ours. It meant con- servation for the rich at the ex- pense of the poor. The voluntary system, based upon widespread educational and publicity cam- paigns was selected because of the moderate expenditure—$2,- 000,000, and the opportunity of- fered to use the great surging de- sire of the loyal American to serve his country!

The success of the Food Con- servation Campaign and the enor- mous volume of saving brought about thru the war spirit and self- sacrifce of the American people can now be measured with consid- erable accuracy.

Wheat.

The surplus of the 1917-18 har- vest based on normal consumption was 20,0[illegible]0,000 bushels. Up to the time of the advent of the 1918 harvest, if the present rate of saving by the American people continues, we will be able to de- liver abroad 150,000,000 bushels of wheat. By this remarkable ef- fort we will have satisfied the Allies in their most pressing bread needs.

Meat: Pork.

Careful analysis of the figures in regard to hogs indicates that we were five to seven million hogs short at the period when the con- servation program was started with the American people. The average export of hog products per month was roughly 55 mil- lion pounds before the European war. In the last half of the year 1917, because of the decrease in the number of hogs in the country it fell below the somewhat in- creased level due to war demands. In March, 1918, we were export- ing 300 million pounds per month and can see our way clear, with the present saving and production to go forward at this rate for an indefinite period. We have now in storage one billion, one hun- dred million pounds of pork pro- ducts which provides an ample re- serve for a steady flow to meet the allied demands as well as the demands of this country. This represents wholly the voluntary conservation of the country, as it does not reflect the present in- crease in the hog population.

Beef.

Before the war, we were ex- porting two to three million pounds of beef monthly. After the European war began, there was an increase of 23 million pounds per month. Now, we are exporting 130 million pounds of beef per month and with the con- tinuation of conservation and pro- duction, there is no reason for anticipating other than a continu- ation of this vital program.

The Food Administration be- gan its preliminary work in May, a year ago as part of the fighting program of the United States. It set as its goal the provisioning of the armies and peoples of the gov- ernments associated with us in the war. There have been neces- sary adjustments on both sides. France and England have recent- ly reduced their already lowered food consumption in order to make ships available for the send- ing of our troops abroad. If the American people continue their present voluntary food saving plan and Nature is kind to us in the coming harvest, we can not only care for the needs of our own people, and our Army and Navy, the needs of the fighting armies in Europe and the civilian popula- tion back of them, take care of the war zones as are available by such of the famished people in the existing shipping, but can build up the necessary reserve of food absolutely vital for future success.

The winning of the war de- pends upon the development of great offensive strength of the part of the United States. This offensive must include ships, men, supplies and food. With the in- crease in the size of our army, there is a necessary decrease in our productive capacity in food. Harvests are bound to vary with seasonal changes. The only safe procedure for us and for the Allies is to provide enormous reserve stocks of staple foods both in Europe and here to meet any emergency. In a later period of the war, to have to stop in a crit- ical phase of it in order to put unusual emphasis upon agricul- tural production might be fatal to our final success. There must be no let down in the program of conservation with the new har- vest. Heartened by our success and by the spirit of devotion and self-sacrifce shown by the Amer- ican people, we must go ahead more than ever convinced of our responsibility to those who fight with us and to those unfortunate peoples who look to us as the only source of the food supply neces- sary to keep them from destruc- tion. We have to keep the plate of the soldiers of the allied armies full. That is the ultimate goal to be attained by the food saving program of the American people.

We must realize that we are deeper in this war than any other nation, for we have said, thru our President, that our peace is to be with the German people, not with the Hohenzollern. We have then the problem of provid- ing the additional offensive strength needed to defeat the greatest war lord in history with millions of trained veterans un- der his control. To do this, we must see the issues clearly and back up those at the front by our actions each hour of each day. The morale of the fighting armies will settle this war. We must see that the morale of our men and that of those who fight with us is kept at high tide. We can do so if they can feel our support all of the time. Now is the great opportunity of the American peo- ple to demonstrate that our form of government is a success. If we do not all of us, at once, vol- untarily and willingly get behind those who fight and die for us, in every phase of our life, and now particularly realize that wheat is powder to win the war, then we are going to fail in this, our im- mediate pressing duty, and be a despised and humiliated nation. Six months from today we must be a great united democracy fight- ing our way forward toward a final victory. There can be but one outcome of this war and we must steel ourselves for any mis- fortune, for any reverse, with our minds united and fixed upon the idea of a final victory.

FROM THE COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE.

Town Men on the Farm.

As a result of the call from the farmers many residents of our towns have gone into the harvest fields. In a trip around the coun- ty, bank clerks, lawyers, insur- ance men, clerks from stores and even ministers have been found at work. Altho it is impossible to state, from this office, just how many men have gone out on to the farms, because many go out without being registered at this office, to help personal friends, yet, the response has been even better than was at first expected. Now that the movement has been started, it will quite likely be an annual feature in every agri- cultural community.

A man living north of Alex- ander asked James Strawn, of the firm of Strawn and Spink, to bring out an automobile load of men to help shock wheat. Mr. Strawn got in touch with the county agent and was referred to Barbre, the contractor. As a re- sult the load of help was started on its way with Mr. Strawn at the steering wheel. W. L. Leach came in and asked for two men. Jackson, the janitor at the Court House, and Roberts of the firm of Johnson, Hackett & Guthrie, formed a team that he took back to the harvest fields. The ffrms in this city that registered for farm help did so in good faith and are sticking to their word.

Labor Saving Devices.

The United States Department of Agriculture is lending every effort to assist the farmers by suggesting labor saving devices. Two bulletins have just come from the press. In one of these is pictured Labor Saving Devices in Hay Making and the other shows a picture of Use of Man Power on the Farm. These are being distributed to interested parties. Altho in some quarters the farmer is reluctant to look at anything in print that may have been gotten up for his help, it is not that way in Morgan County. The farmers are realizing that this material is helpful and are asking for it.

Manual for Threshermen.

Another interesting publication is a farmer's bulletin for the man that runs a threshing machine. It has in plain language the things that most of our experienced threshermen have already found out. A copy of this will be sent free to any threshermen in Mor- gan County.

Helps for Women.

Several hundred copies of bul- letins on Cottage Cheese Dishes were sent out yesterday to the farm women of Morgan County. There is still a large supply of this very valuable publication in the county agent's office. It will be sent free to anyone requesting it. Any person living in the city is requested to call and help him- self.

Farm Visits.

The county agent has recently visited farms in the vicinity of the McCarty Farmers' Elevator, north of Waverly, also southeast of Murrayville and north of Chap- in. At this time it looks as tho Morgan county was in line for a very good corn crop. As result of farmers being suspicious of their seed corn this spring, they tested it and the stand is very good.

THE STAR OF GOLD.

I am thinking of old Glory,
And the stars that mark it's blue;
Of the service flag, the women
Made and flung beneath it too:
And I know well what they all mean—
Stars alone and manifold—
But I stop, salute, uncover,
When I see a star of gold.

I respect, with veneration,
Every star our good flag flies,
And the morning stars of service
For our men neath distant skies;
But my heart begins a prayer
And there's nought I would with-hold,
As I stop, salute, uncover,
When I see a star of gold.

For, among the stars of service,
In the church, the home, the shop,
Golden stars are coming faster
For brave boys gone "o'er the top;"
And we're sad and glad together.
For he did his best, we're told;
So we stop, salute, uncover,
When we see a star of gold.

What's an iron cross or a medal
Worn by honored soldiers bold,
When compared with that up yon- der—
Just a silent star of gold—
For it heralds you a victor
In the conflict long and old;
And we stop, salute, uncover,
When we see a star of gold.

FORMER WHITE HALL GIRL IS MARRIED

Miss Sylvia D. Spotts Weds in Cal- ifornia—War Savings Stamps Total is $69,000.

White Hall, July 3.—Announce- ments were received at White Hall today, giving particulars of the marriage of Miss Sylvia D. Spotts and Dr. Morris J. Thomp- son at Orange, California, on June 26th. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spotts, the family moving from White Hall to California a few years ago, and she is well and most favorably known among our people.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Neece, French Emery and family, of St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beleford, of Bloomington, attend- ed the funeral of Mrs. William Devault here today. Mrs. Devault was 62 years of age. She died Saturday following an illness of several weeks. The husband and three daughters survive. The fam- ily have resided in White Hall many years.

Lloyd R. Winn, member of the convoy service, with headquarters at Baltimore, is at home for a few days with his family. The branch of the service with which he is at- tached is engaged in convoying government auto trucks from De- troit to Baltimore and many of the eastern states.

Figures made public tonight by H. O. Tunison, chairman of the county War Savings Stamp cam- paign committee, shows that White Hall went well over the top in the drive which closed last Friday night. White Hall's quota was $52,000, and the drive brought in a total of $69,000, be- ing in excess of any other city in the county.

The White Hall Odd Fellows are preparing a Red Cross benefit on the 27th in dedicating the new garage of W. W. Evans on Main street, which will be the formal opening of this new enterprise, and the event will be made as im- portant as the activities and abil- ity of this splendid organization can make it. The installation of officers took place Monday night, and the destinies of the lodge for the ensuing year are in the fol- lowing hands:

One of the best organized and most strenuously conducted drives for any war purpose was brought to a close last Friday night in con- nection with the War Savings campaign in Greene county. Since that time several stenographers and other workers have been com- piling the data at the office of H. O. Tunison, county chairman, and by this evening Mr. Tunison was in a position to say that the quota for Greene county, $447,000, has been raised, but that the exact figures are not yet available, there being some subtractions to make because of overlapping ter- ritory, and there are yet eight or ten districts to hear from. The contributions ranged from $5.00 to $1,000, and while there were some slackers, they are confined to the more well to do classes, a fact that Mr. Tunison admits with no little degree of surprise. The greatest compliment to Mr. Tunison is that his home town- ship, White Hall, shows about $69,000, the quota of which was $52,000. All the War Savings Stamp work in the county has been under the direction of Mr. Tunison since January 1st, and he has been very busy and earnest in this work in addition to lending a helping hand in all other war activities. Eight stenographers have been assisting in compiling the returns of the last drive since last Friday night, and Mr. Tuni- son has had the almost continuous assistance of George North in making up the summary. There was a man and woman chairman in each township, and the school directors were requested to con- duct a personal canvass of their districts with the results as shown above.

TEN HAVE RETURNED FROM CAMP TAYLOR

Were in Contingent Recently Sent from Morgan County—Failed to Pass Examinations.

Among Morgan county men who returned from Camp Taylor yesterday because of failure to pass the physical examination were Raymond Massey, William R. Flinn, George B. Carroll, Luther Brockhouse and Lee Stringham. It is understood that ten men in all were rejected and considering the fact that nearly 300 were included in the contingent which went to Camp Taylor last Friday, the percentage of men rejected was small. Messrs, Massey, Carroll and Brockhouse last night gave some facts about the experiences of the Morgan county men at camp.

As previously related, they reached Camp Taylor between 2 and 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. They were assigned to barracks and early Sunday afternoon were summoned for physical examination. The men marched from the barracks to a building about three blocks distant for their examination. A large staff of examining physicians was in readiness and the work was pushed thru with such rapidity that all the 300 men were examined in less than two hour's time. The examination was conducted very much as is true with the local board except that the staff of physicians is many times larger.

For example, there are a number of physicians examining the eyes and ears and each man appears before only one of them. With so large a staff of examiners it can be easily understood that the work is done very quickly. Each man as he appeared before the examiners had with him a record of the examination made here and blank spaces for additional notations. Men who were notified that they had not met physical requirements were ordered to leave the building by a different aisle from that used by the accepted men. The men accepted for service were immediately vaccinated.

When the examinations had all been completed the entire group again marched back to barracks. Tuesday they were summoned for drill and the roll was called and those who had not passed the examination were notified to turn in their mess kits, bedding and other property of the government assigned to them soon after their arrival. When these men had "checked in" with these belongings their own suit cases were given them and they were paid for their services from Friday until Tuesday and were also given railroad fare from Louisville to Jacksonville. The pay check of each man returning was $18.20.

Several of the men came over the Southern to Centralia and there took the Burlington for Jacksonville, and others traveled to East St. Louis and reached Jacksonville over the Chicago & Alton. All of the returned men were enthusiastic about Camp Taylor and altho they knew it was a big cantonment they had no real idea of the great equipment or the distances until their visit.

MOVING THE WHEAT CROP

It is understood that all else practically is to give way to the moving of the great wheat crop this month and next. The art of stacking may not be called obsolete yet very few can be found who can build a good looking stack that will resist the weather so that the great majority thresh from the shock. Some good farmers maintain that stacking pays but at any rate it is done but comparatively little. Now comes the word that cars are to be in readiness at the elevators to remove promptly the grain as it comes in and the process of handling and cleaning at the local elevator and the larger ones in the city is expected to overcome any evils from sweating of the grain.

NEARLY 30,000 VESSELS U. S. MERCHANT MARINE

Fiscal Year Just Closed Exceeds All Previous Years in New Ships Built in This Country.

Washington, July 3.—On the eve of the greatest ship launching day in history, the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce announced tonight that the fiscal year just closed exceeded all previous years in new ships built in this country giving the United States a merchant marine of 10,040,659 gross tons and numbering nearly 30,000 vessels.

In the twelve months ending June 30 there were 1,622 new ships of 1,430,793 gross tons numbered by the bureau, more than double the output of German yards in peace times. Great Britain's production in the same period has not been made public but in the year ending May 30 amounted to 1,406,838 gross tons, or about 70 percent of the normal annual output. In addition to the merchant ships permanently unde rthe stars and stripes the sea-going fleet of cargo carriers controlled by the United States includes 200,000 tons of requisitioned Dutch ships and 404,700 tons operated by the army and navy as transports, hospital ships, supply transports and other auxiliary craft besides yachts and similar vessels under 500 tons employed in considerable numbers in military and naval service. One-half of the fiscal year's output of ships was completed in the last four months. The total included 253 sea-going steel steamers of 1,034,604 gross tons and 157 sea-going wooden vessels of 213,088 tons, the remainder being vessels for the lakes, rivers and domestic transportation except one concrete sea-going steamer of 3,427 gross tons. Even this record production however, undoubtedly will be eclipsed in the fiscal year just starting for many new yards are just beginning to get into operation and the great fabricating yards have not yet begun to add finished ships to the cargo fleets. Losses sustained by the merchant marine included for the last three months were 82,049 tons of sea-going vessels including ten of 14,707 gross tons sunk by submarines off the Atlantic coast in May and June. The growth of the shipbuilding industry in this country in the last two years has been a close rival of many businesses which have given America its reputation as a great industrial nation. The record of the bureau of navigation show that in the twelve months ended June 30, 1916, when the renaissance of ship building had just started, there were completed in American yards 1,030 ships of 347,147 gross tons.

SENATOR TILLMAN DIES AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, July 3.—United States Senator Tillman, veteran of 24 years service in congress and chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, died here early today as the result of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered last Thursday. The stroke completely paralyzed the left side and as the right side had been partially paralyzed since a similar attack ten years ago, no hope had been held for recovery since he lapsed into unconsciousness last Sunday.

SPECIAL WINDOWS.

Washington, July 3.—The railroad administration today ordered special windows established in union depots and ticket offices for the sale of railroad tickets to a single destination — whatever place passenger traffic from the city shows the heaviest trend. Experiments in Washington have shown such arrangement facilitates traffic movement and saves time. In some cities more than one such window in each office may be decided upon.

OVERCAME OPPOSITION.

Washington, July 3.—Republican opposition to the 1920 census bill was overcome in the house today and the measure was passed, 158 to 128. It now goes to the senate. Republican objection centered upon the provision authorizing the director of census to name district supervisors.

YIELD IS HEAVY.

Bloomington, Ill., July 3.—After being delayed by rains the harvest of central Illinois greatest crop of wheat opened today. Thousands of business men, women and girls from the cities assisted the farmers. Many barber shops closed to release labor. It is said that most of the fields will yield forty bushels to the acre.

MAINLY MENNONITES.

Camp Dodge, Ia., July 3.—"Conscientious objectors" to military service, stationed at this cantonment were questioned today by the special investigatory commission appointed by Secretary Baker which is on a tour of the various army cantonments in the country.

"Conscientious objectors" here claim mainly to be Mennonites and are mostly from Henry county.

PLACED IN CLASS 5; COMMITS SUICIDE

CHICAGO, July 3.—Louis E. Jackson, former medical student rejected for service by the army, then the navy and finally placed in Class Five by his exemption board in spite of entreaties to be placed in Class One, is in a hospital today dying from poison. He had twice attempted suicide from gas, it is said, because of inability to get into the fighting ranks.

RAISE CONTRIBUTIONE

Amsterdam, July 3.—The war contributions which Belgium has to pay to Germany says Les Nouvenelles has been raised from 50,000,000 francs to 60,000,000 francs monthly. This is equivalent to 750 francs per head. The Germans have convoked the provincial councils to discuss the method of payment by the belgiums.

AUTO ACCIDENT AT WINCHESTER

Wm. Blackburn Driving Car Failed to See Rope Stretched Across Street—News Notes.

Winchester, Ill., July 3.—Paul Mason arrived Tuesday from St. Louis to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason.

Miss Abbie Eddings returned Wednesday from Jacksonville to spend the Fourth with friends.

Mrs. Charles Moses arrived Wednesday from Naylor, Mo., to visit relatives and friends here. Her daughter, Miss Maude Moses, who arrived Saturday from Pekin, went to Barrow station to meet her mother.

The surgical dressings class today shipped 1890 articles to headquarters at Chicago. The shipment included 40 sweaters, 7 pairsof socks, a large number of wristlets and 10 pillows.

The liberty loan flag awarded Scott county for exceeding the county's quota in the last drive has been received.

W. H. Cocking of Jacksonville was busy here with a force of men today oiling the square and a number of side streets. The square was roped off during the afternoon to allow the work of oiling to proceed.

William Blackburn, coming from the west toward the square in his automobile this afternoon, did not see the rope stretched across the street from a post at the rear of George Owings' store to a telephone pole on the north side of the square. The car struck the rope with such force that the post was broken off. A horse belonging to Mr. Owings was knocked own and the delivery wagon turned over. The animal attempted to run away but was caught by Gus Peterson. Mr. Blackburn was not seriously injured but both hands were considerably cut from glass from the wind shield. The wind shield was smashed and the top of the car crushed in. The steering wheel was badly bent. The accident happened about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Afterwards large pieces of red cloth were tied in the center of each of the ropes about the square.

Band concert at Nichols park this evening beginning at 8 o'clock.

4TH OF JULY OBSERVED HERE MANY YEARS AGO

Capt. Henry's Diary Tells of Celebration Held in Jacksonville in 1829—One of the Very Earliest in State.

One of the interesting relices at the public library is the scrap book of Capt. John Henry covering a period from 1841 to 1882. It was in the latter year under date of April 8 that Capt. Henry wrote the letter quoted below donating the book to the Jacksonville library as a worth while local record. Capt. Henry came to Jacksonville Oct. 13, 1828. He was at that time twenty eight years of age as he was born Nov. 1, 1800. He was one of the pioneer cabinet makers of Illinois and served his apprenticeship under Robert Willson in Kentucky in 1818.

The book has special interest at this time because it gives a clipping telling of the celebration of the Fourth of July here in 1829. So far as known this is the earliest celebration in Illinois which is a matter of record. It seems that the day was observed with a patriotic program including the reading of the declaration of independence and that after the formal program that the company adjourned for a picnic dinner. The report of this first celebration taken from Capt. Henry's book is as follows:

The First Celebration

"The citizens of Jacksonville and Morgan County called a meeting to be holden in my Cabinet Shop to Celebrate the 4 of of July 1829 in Honor of Americans' Independence. A committee consisting of John Eads, Uncle of the Great Civil Engineer, Abraham Devitt, John P. Wilkinson, Joseph Fairfield and John Henry. The meeting was opened by Prayer by the Rev. Christain Loarh of the Methodist Church Hon Walter Jones was chosen orator of the day and Dr John Challen was chosen as reader of the Declaration of Independence, John Eads, President of the day. A Sumptious dinner was prepared one mile of East of the town and was a large attendance from all parts of the county."

In Early Days

In the diary of Capt. Henry he gives this personal paragraph about early days in this city and tells of the establishment of his cabinet shop on East State street. There were few buildings in Jacksonville at that time and the population was limited to a few hundred people. Capt. Henry wrote:

"I hired a large Ox Waggon and team and came to St. Louis and purchased a full load and hauled it to Jacksonville, One hundred miles My first Order was from Major Simms to the amount of One Hundred and twenty Dollars payment half cash, half in produce At this time my shop was on East State street and I only had room enough for one work bench. A man by the name of Cox, built a large log house on Government Land Concluded to sell it and I purchased it for Twenty Dollars and moved it and made a very commodious shop enough for three work benches and turning laths This was the first regular Cabinet Shop in Morgan County It was the second best house in the Village"

PLEASE RETURN THE FLAGS.

Rev. F. M. Rule says he had at his home and the Dunlap House three flags displayed and left them out over night to show his loyalty when some one, whether pro-German or not is not known, removed and walked off with the National emblems. Mr. Rule says the taker is welcome to display them today if he wishes and then he would much like to have them returned to him.

WORKED AT WRECKED MUNITION PLANT

Julian Capps, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Capps of this city a year ago was at the munition plant in Syracuse, N. Y., which was destroyed by an explosion Tuesday. Mr. Capps at the time was making experiments looking toward the transforming on a commercial scale of ammonia into nitric acid. He is carrying on the same work at the present time in the city of Washington. The laboratories where the young man worked were wrecked by explosion and his parents are thankful that he was not engaged in work there this summer.

ADDED SOLDIERS NAMES.

In the list of Morgan county soldiers supplied by the centennial and Fourth of July committee for publication yesterday the names of a number were omitted. The committee will be glad to have names of any additional men that properly belong in the list. The names reported yesterday were William L. Allcott, Lloyd W. Reynolds, Harold Young, John W. Bishop, Lieut. James Lemons. Leonard Young, an enlisted man, was the first in Morgan county service to meet death and was buried in this city several months since.

ARE ADVERTISED MEDICINES WORTHLESS?

There is no more reason to condemn all advertised medicines than there is to condemn all physicians or all druggists. Fakes there are in every profession and in every trade, but they do not last long. Take a medicine like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the true test of its merit is the fact that for forty years it has been relieving women of America from the worst forms of female ailments, constantly growing in popularity and favor, until it is now recognized from ocean to ocean as the standard remedy for female ills.—Adv.

CUT THE WEEDS.

The unfortunate financial condition of our city is only too well known but doesn't keep people from having a little civic pride. Ther are some places in the city in which the high weeds are anything but ornamental and speak poorly for the adjacent property owners. If each owner would cut the weeds opposite his or her primises matters would be greatly improved. Ther are several most unsightly patches of burdock growing high as the fence and they should be treated to the scythe before they ripen and go to seed.

FROM THE SUNFLOWER STATE.

Willard and Misses Helen and Frankie Haskell, Lena Simpkins and Ada Rippon arrived by auto in the city Tuesday evening enroute for the east and meaning to have a pleasant trip. They left yesterday morning with many kind remarks about the place.

WILL MEET FRIDAY.

The regular meeting of the C. W. B. M. will be held with Mrs. Robert Smith on 749 South Church street Friday afternoon at 2:30, Mrs. C. C. Patchen leader. Topic, "Discipls of Christ in dia." The Bible study will be Mrs. Clarence Rice. A full tendance is desired.

Emphatically Asserts Worn Out, Lagging Men Can Quickly Become Vigorous and Full of Ambition

7 a Day for 7 Days

Don't blame the man who is perpetually tired; his blood needs more red corpuscles and his brain and nerves are craving for food.

Given the right kind of medicine any tired out, inactive, lagging fellow cany quickly be made into a real live, energetic and even ambitious man.

So says a student of the nervous system who advises all men and women who fell worn out and who find it hard to get up ambition enough to take a regular job to get a package of Biofteren at any druggist.

This is the new discovery that pharmacists are recommending because it is not expensive and speedily puts vigor and ambition into people who despaired of ever amounting to anything in life.

People whose nerves have been wrecked by too rapid living, too much tobacco or alcohol, have regained their old-time confidence and energy in less than two weeks.

No matter from what cause your nerves went back on you; no matter how run down, nervous or tired out you are, get an original package of Bio-feren at once. Take two tablets after each meal and one before bedtime—seven a day for seven days—then one after each meal till all are gone.

Then if you still lack ambition; if your nerves are not steady and you haven't the energy that red-blooded keen-minded men possess, your purchase money will be gladly returned.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren it is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycerophosphate; Iron Peptonate; Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nux Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Olearesin Capsicum; Kola.

ALL IN READINESS FOR PROCESSIONAL PAGEANT

Many Events of Interest in Addition to Pageant—Band Concert at Nichols Park — Ball Game at West Side Park.

All is in readiness for the Centennial processional pageant to be given this afternoon to celebrate the One Hundredth Anniversary of the admission of Illinois to the Union.

T. W. Callihan and a corps of assistants and the decorating committee worked until far into the night finishing floats and indications point to some of the most unique effects as well as some of the finest floats ever seen in the city.

All floats are requested to be at Duncan Park promptly at 1 o'clock this afternoon so that they can be placed in the parade. The parade will move over the line of march as outlined in Wednesday's Journal, promptly at 3 o'clock. All boys who are to represent some enlisted man in the parade are requested to assemble on Illinois College campus promptly at 1 o'clock.

Costumes to be used in the pageant will be given out at the David Prince school building from 9 to 12 o'clock this morning.

Besides the processional pageant there are many other things of interest during the day and evening. This morning beginning at 9 o'clock there will be a program of athletic events at Nichols Park. These events will be in charge of Fred Darr and Harry Walker.

At 4:15 o'clock this afternoon Frank Smith's Indees will meet the Franklin Indees at West Side Park. Franklin has always been a hard nut for Jacksonville to crack and will be doubly so this afternoon because of Rans McManus their crack hurler being on the mound.

At 8 o'clock this evening there will be a big band concert at Nichols Park. The Liberty Band has outlined a splendid program and no doubt there will be an immense crowd to hear it. There also will be dancing in the pavilion.

E. H. Gray, general manager of the Jacksonville Street Railway Company announced last night that all street cars would stop at the intersections of the square during the parade. Following the pageant the floats will assemble around Central park and speaking will take place at the reviewing stand in front of the Ayers National bank. This will include the presentation of the county service flag.

The replica of the first engine on the Jacksonville-Meredosia railroad was completed yesterday and was placed in the fire department ready for the parade this afternoon.

THREE SONS IN THE ARMY SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. J. Robinson Have Loyal Family—Two Other Sons Subject to Selective Draft.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Robinson, living a short distance southeast of Jacksonville, have three sons in the army service and two more of draft age. Thomas Robinson has been for some time in the training camp near Montgomery, Ala., and George W. and Frank left with the last Morgan county contingent for Camp Taylor. The other two sons at home are John, aged thirty-one, and Donald, aged twenty-two.

When asked about members of his family in the service yesterday Mr. Robinson talked with reluctance as he said that he did not want anybody to think that he was boasting about what the members of his family were doing for the nation at this time. And he said further that there are a number of other Morgan county residents who have at least three sons in the service and that some families are represented by four. It will probably not be many months before Mr. Robinson will be in this latter class.

It was in 1881 that Mr. Robinson came from Scarborough, England, to this country. He has paid strict attention to farming business, has prospered and ranks well among the men of this community.

GREAT SALE OF LADIES' READY TO WEAR

The Store of Herman Crowded All Yesterday with People Getting Bargains in Ready to Wear and Millinery.

A host of ladies took advantage of the wonderful inducements mentioned in the advertisement of Herman as it appeared in the Journal for they knew it meant bargains in what they really needed and could use. All day from opening till closing time the store was crowded and hosts of bundles and packages went out and that many persons added to their supply of ready to wear goods and millinery. When it comes to getting a house dress for 25 cents; a good Sunday dress for $2.00 to $4.00 each worth $7.00 to $10.00 it is unnecessary to remark that people are going to avail themselves of the privilege.

The sale will be continued for some time to come and all who would make their money go several times as far as is ordinarily the case will do well to inspect the bargains offered.

A VALUABLE RELIC

S. O. Barr inherited from his father a walnut cane and on it are carved the name of the Martyr Lovejoy and the date of his death. The cane was made from some part of the wreck of the building in which the Lovejoy presses were kept.

As is well known to most persons, Lovejoy was the editor of a paper in Alton and dared to say that he thought slavery a sin. The writer is very proud of the fact that his father was a personal friend of Mr. Lovejoy and a member of the "underground railroad" for fifteen years. Mr. Lovejoy was a visitor at the home of his friend not long before the tragedy and the writer's father warned him then to be a little less outspoken but he said he was only advocating the right and surely would not be injured for that.

Many persons felt that for a great many years an evil genius presided over Alton for it was at the time of the tragedy the metropolis of that part of the country and letters from the east were addressed to St. Louis, near Alton. It failed to maintain that lead at any rate.

THE ACADEMY PROPERTY FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES

The suggested purchase of the academy property for a high school has received marked favor in the estimation of a great many persons. Since it can be bought legally, in the opinion of the worthy president of the board of education the matter is surely worth consideration. The location is absolutely ideal; near the street railroad yet remote enough to be free from noise; ample ground and in the center of the city's population. The boilers in the ruins will make enough heat for the David Prince building and it is near enough for all purposes. There would be a large sum left from the insurance money after the purchase and but a small part of that would be needed for a boiler house for the David Prince building and the rest could be used in remodeling and improving the academy building making it in very good shape for a high school building.

Even if it were used so but a few years the cost of new building would undoubtedly decrease fully as much as the $100,000 expended so that a new building could then be constructed and the city would be the gainer. If thought best a petition could be started and undoubtedly the necessary 500 names could be easily secured.

VERY HORSE NEW CIRCUS STAR

Orin Davenport Found the Famous "Drover" in the Shafts of a Truck in Chicago Streets.

PERFECT SPECIMEN FOR ARENA

Out of the shafts of a delivery wagon and into the circus arena is the unusual chapter in the history of "Drover", a fine dapple gray who will be seen with Barnum & Bailey's circus here Wednesday, July 17.

"Drover", like many other artists in their lines, was discovered. He was a born circus horse, but fate was unkind enough to start him among the common herd. He was born on a farm in the West, and was sold as a yearling to a Chicago manufacturer. For five years he pulled a wagon about the streets of the Windy City and, most likely, he'd be doing the same thing now if it hadn't happened that two lucky stars were hard at work one August afternoon, three years ago. One of the lucky stars was "Drover's" and the other was guiding the destiny of Orin Davenport, bareback performer with Barnum & Bailey show.

Davenport noticed the horse in the shafts of a wagon and trained eye immediately saw the perfect circus horse. He purchased the animal for $150.00 after some dickering and, with six months of work, "Drover" proved his worth and the good judgment of his purchaser by doing all that was expected of him and more.

The story of "Drover" was locked in the breast of Orin Davenport until recently when he was asked to point out the best horse among all animals of the circus stock. He pointed to "Drover" and then told the story of his purchase.
